

"Dr. McGovern comes to us from Fort Wayne, IN where you are saving his family from another day of 'dad-humor'. When he is not providing opportunities for his wife and seven home-schooled children to grow in holiness, he is cutting cancer off of patients' faces and putting them back together. To keep him out of trouble, his saintly-wife of 28 years, Sally, allows him a busy apostolic life with the Catholic Medical Association, Holy Cross College Board of Trustees, Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre, and Legatus. She even listens to his radio show and podcasts, Doctor, Doctor, which is now the official program of the Catholic Medical Association. Michigan Tech University, Mayo Medical School, and the Yale School of Medicine helped him to become the dermatologist he is today. Live, from Fort Wayne, here is Dr. Tom McGovern"
