

5 Ways to Become a Great Catholic Doctor!

CMA Sponsored Events

Are you a medical student? Join other medical students and residents from across the U.S. in a week-long intensive intensive bioethics course and retreat, the CMA Bootcamp. Are you a premedical student? Consider attending MedCon 2021, your opportunity to connect with and learn from Catholics in various stages of training in practice of medicine. The conference will be live-streamed via Facebook Live. Consider hosting a watch party for other pre-health students at your campus!

Mission Trips and Internships

Looking to travel this summer? You may be interested in a FOCUS Medical Mission! Maybe you want to get started on your certification in biomedical ethics. Or you could spend your summer getting hands-on experience applying Catholic ethics in a medical setting; email Dr. Elliot Bedford in Indianapolis, IN or Dr. Becket Gremmels in Dallas, TX to apply.

Small-Group Study

Whether looking to dive deeper into the topic of suffering alone or with a group of friends, this book study is a discussion-based course for current and rising health care professionals based on the Apostolic Letter of Pope St. John Paul II Salvifici Doloris (On the Christian Meaning of Human Suffering).

On Your Phone

Form your conscience on the go with Catholic medical podcasts! If you want to listen to engaging and humorous discussions of practical and current medical topics, check out Doctor, Doctor. Or perhaps you want to focus on the ethical issues facing Catholic medicine today, then Bioethics on Air! Once you feel up to date on these issues, try using this app to help you apply those ethics in medicine!

Get Involved with the CMA

CMA works at both the national and local level to provide services that benefit the entire Catholic healthcare community and the culture around us. Become part of the mission. Are you a medical student who desires to share the Gospel, but aren't sure how you can during your busy life? The Pre-Med Subcommittee of the CMA is launching a new initiative called "The Medical Student Rx" to help medical students do just this by connecting them with a local Focus missionary. From there, the med student can help evangelize and form pre-medical students in a way that respects the obligations and demands of being in medical school. Interested? Sign-up! Lastly, pre-meds can receive mentorship from a medical student and/or physician, who enjoy sharing their expertise and experience with the next generation. Contact us to get access!

May God bless you and your premedical studies!
